Do you believe in God do you believe in science
One will pray one will contemplate
Both are in each other both oppose the other
Is it the father is it the mother

Do you live to love do you live to hate
One will bring you joy the other will destroy
Both come from each other both oppose the other
Is it the father is it the mother

Love grows like a tiny seed the universe expands for eternity
Held in the balance the darkest and the light we share we all share this life

Do you have the faith do you have trust
One is sanctified the other verified
Both come from each other both confirm the other
Faith is the father you know trust is the mother

Love grows like a tiny seed the universe expands for eternity
Held in the balance the darkest and the light we share we all share this life
What is bigger than always being right forgiveness the love and the light

Love grows like a tiny seed the universe expands for eternity
Held in the balance the darkest and the light we share we all share this life
We share we all share this life
